The Cal Turner Program for Moral Leadership in the Professions is pleased to invite you to an upcoming student discussion. "Trade and Freedom" James Bacchus, Visiting Professor of Law and former Chairman of the Appellate Body of the World Trade Organization. The discussion will address the connection between trade and freedom, the reasons why trade is necessary to freedom, and also the reasons why trade is not enough to secure freedom for all.

Wednesday, October 27, 2004, 5:30 - 6:30 pm

Bartholomew Room (149), Law School

Pizza and Soda will be provided. Please make reservations at <http://www.vanderbilt.edu/moral\_leadership/eventstu.htm>.

This event is part of the Cal Turner Program's focus on professions in global perspective. The CTP student discussion series draws students into a cross-professional dialogue on moral and ethical issues. This provides an opportunity for students who share similar and divergent professional interests to address issues of mutual concern.

Take Back the Night!

Monday, October 25th 7:00pm starting at Olin Field

Where: From Olin Field across from the VU baseball field to the covered shelter in Centennial Park behind the McDonald's. Who: Free and open to everyone

What: TBTN is a night of healing - a community rally and march against domestic and sexual violence. We will begin at Olin field with stories from survivors of violence. After marching to Centennial Park, we will have an open mike for anyone who cares to share their own story of healing. Visit the campus map - <http://www.vanderbilt.edu/map> - to see the exact location of Olin Field. Parking is available in the 25th Avenue Garage and at Centennial Park. Shuttle services will be available at the end of the night back to the garage.

This year the Divinity Library is initiating a series of Database Open Houses. These are informal training sessions intended as opportunities for Divinity and GDR faculty and students to learn more about the library's collection of electronic resources.

Each month, library staff will be on hand in the Electronic Classroom to talk about our electronic resources and to answer questions about using the databases. A different database or set of databases will be highlighted at each month's presentation. We plan to hold these open houses on the last Wednesday of each month, from 1:10 pm -2 pm in the afternoon.

The next Database Open House is scheduled for Wednesday, October 27 starting at 1:10 pm in the Electronic Classroom. The focus this month will be the BibleWorks Database. Divinity Library Bibliographer for Ancient Near East, Steve Cook, will provide a presentation on how to effectively use this electronic resource.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions about this month's event. And finally, I would like to ask you to let me know if there are any particular databases or topics related to databases that you would like to see covered in future open houses.

For more information, please contact Public Services Librarian Amy Limpitlaw at amy.e.limpitlaw@vanderbilt.edu.
