

Journey of Transformation

Dot Parks Evins pondered,
“What could God do with a Math teacher on the mission field?”

Dot's Life in Sitiawan

Getting water from a well

Standing on a patio of the mission bungalow

Riding bicycle to work with colleague, Don Small

Holding a cat in front of the mission bungalow

Having plenty of time to write and read

7 feet long dead snake found on the roadside

First Christmas in Malaya

Making milk from milk powder

Station wagon used by the doctor and nurse to provide health care to people in rural Sitiawan

Dot enjoyed shopping at the fruit stand, which carried a great variety of selections.

Life in Malaya, 1955

Lion dance parade next to the Anglo Chinese school

Tin dredge

Mountains

Sunset on a tin dredge

Malay house built on stilts and topped with atap

Rice paddy

Tin mine

Rubber trees

Malay boat and hut

Malay huts surrounding the rice paddy

Students and colleagues met in Sitiawan

Steven Ling, a student, learning to play piano by ear

Don Small, an English teacher from Saint Antonia, and Liang Choon Ho , an elementary school teacher

Eugene McGraw, the principal of the Anglo Chinese School

Chong Booï Khoo, Dot's
Mandarin tutor

Alma Erickson, a Danish nurse, working in the Sitiawan Methodist Clinic

Evelyn Mercer, a social worker, raising chickens

Dot with her students, Steven Ling on the lower right and Choo- Hua Eng on the upper left

Leong Siok Ling, a student, doing secretarial chores for Dot

Folk dancing in a students social gathering

Students social gathering

Students from the Vacation Bible School

Students and teachers of the Sitiawan Sunday School

Sitiawan in 1950s

Pioneer Chinese Church, ministered by Swee Beng Lim, Daniel Ling's Aunt

Sitiawan Wesleyan Church for English speaking congregation

Sanctuary view of the Sitiawan Wesleyan Church

Mission bungalow

Poinsettia next to the
mission bungalow

A memorial hall in the Anglo Chinese School, with library on one end and science lab on the other

Palm trees in front of the Anglo Chinese School

Basketball court behind the Anglo Chinese school

The overview of Anglo Chinese School

Travel around the world

Sigiriya, Ceylon, Sri Lanka

Elephant rider in Ceylon, Sri Lanka

Along Suez Canal

Along Suez Canal

Fernhill, Norwegian merchant ship

Danish ship in the Indian Ocean

Sunset on the Pacific Ocean

Sunset on the Pacific Ocean

Chinese junk

Chinese junks outside of Hong Kong

Approaching Penang, Malaysia

West coast of Malaysia

Small island on the west coast of Malaysia

Indian fisherman caught a sea urchin

Indian fishermen pulling a long fishing net

Joy from the visiting friends and students

Next to his mom, Linus Goh holding the bottle Dot used to feed him when babysitting him at age of one. Linus' father, Ronnie Goh, was Dot's pastor during her second term to Penang. Dot sent the bottle to Linus to celebrate his 50th birthday last year.

Students visiting Dot at her apartment

Students and friend visiting Dot at McKendree Village

Students and friends visiting the Evins in 2005

Dot's student at Hiwasee College,
Molly Tan, who inspired Dot to teach in Malaya.

Dot with other teachers received training at Scaritt College (a.k.a. Scarritt/Bennett Center)

World map

Map of Southeast Asia

Map of Malaysia

Tin mine

Tin dredge

Sunset on a tin dredge

Rice paddy

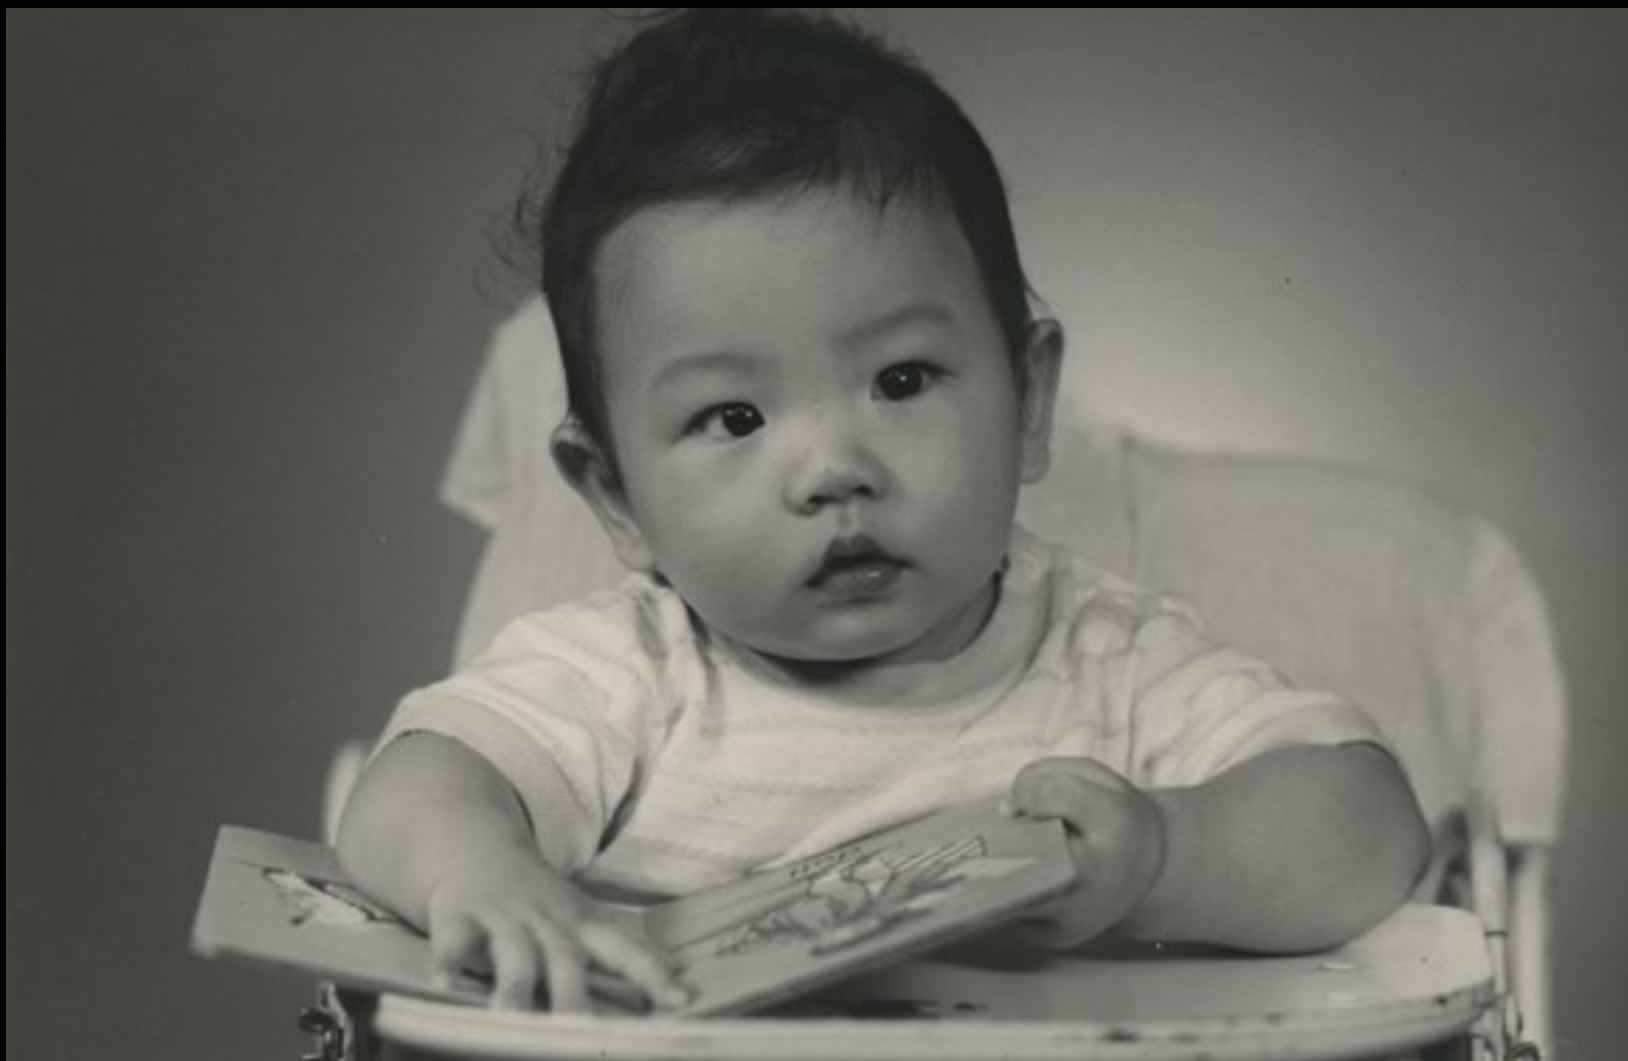

Rubber trees

Daniel Ling and his aunt, Swee Bing Lim who ministered the Pioneer
Church across the road from the Anglo-Chinese School

Daniel Ling visited Dot, her mom and her husband at McKendree

Ronnie Goh's son, Linus, whom Dot used to babysit when the Gohs stayed in Scarritt College

Rev. Ronnie Goh was Dot's pastor during her second term in Malaysia. Dot made the wedding cake for his wedding.

Next to his mom, Linus Goh holding the bottle Dot used to feed him when babysitting him at age of one. Linus' father, Ronnie Goh, was Dot's pastor during her second term to Penang. Dot sent the bottle to Linus to celebrate his 50th birthday last year.

Jonah Choo-Hua Eng (first left) with his schoolmates visiting Dot at her apartment

Jonah Choo-Hua Eng with his family visiting the Evins in 2005