Notice: All Faith Chapel, although located in the Divinity School, falls under the jurisdiction of the University Chaplain's Office. All Faith Chapel is open daily for private meditation. In order for the space to remain open for private meditation the University Chaplain asks that everyone adhere to the rules of the chapel. If you wish to reserve this space for functions please talk with Sherry Willis in the Dean's Office. All Faith Chapel should not be used for impromptu meetings, no food or drink is to be taken into this space, and the furniture should not be rearranged. Once properly reserved the chapel must be returned to its original state once your group has completed its use.

Vanderbilt's Center for the Study of Religion and Culture and Nashville Public Television present a screening of the PBS program, "The Question of God."

Does God exist? How we answer this question says a lot about who we are and what we believe. And no two scholars of the 20th century articulated the intricacies and implications of this question better than Sigmund Freud and C.S. Lewis. In September, Nashville Public Television will air a two-part series entitled THE QUESTION OF GOD: C.S. LEWIS AND SIGMUND FREUD WITH DR. ARMAND NICHOLI, but before the broadcast, NPT and the Center for the Study of Religion and Culture at Vanderbilt University invites the public to a special sneak preview of this fascinating program and panel discussion with Vanderbilt professors.

The panel will include CSRC Directors Douglas Knight, professor of Hebrew Bible at the Divinity School, and Volney Gay, Professor and Chair of Religious Studies. Professor Patout Burns, Malloy Chair of Catholic Studies, and Susan Ford Wiltshire, Professor and Chair of Classical Studies will also join the panel. This event will be held on Monday Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Vanderbilt Stadium Club at 201 25th Ave. South and is free and open to the public. Free parking provided in the Stadium Club parking garage behind the Marriott hotel.

THE QUESTION OF GOD: C.S. LEWIS AND SIGMUND FREUD WITH DR. ARMAND NICHOLI, will air on NPT-Channel 8 Wednesdays, Sept. 15 and 22 from 8-10 p.m.
