GENERAL STATEMENT

HISTORY

Vanderbilt University owes its foundation to the munificence of Cornelius Vanderbilt, of New York, who on March 27, 1873, made a donation of $500,000 for the purpose of establishing a university. This donation was subsequently increased to $1,000,000.

Further donations were made by Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt, son of the founder, and by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt and Mr. F. W. Vanderbilt, grandsons of the founder. The total gifts of the Vanderbilt family amount to over three million dollars.

Other gifts for the general endowment of the University have been made by many patrons and friends.

Vanderbilt University first granted the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1875. In 1895 a complete reorganization of the Medical School was undertaken, and the University erected a building on the corner of Elm Street and Fifth Avenue, South, which was considered at that time an adequate and modern Medical School plant. The grounds and facilities of the medical school were greatly extended in 1911 by the purchase of the campus and buildings of the George Peabody College for Teachers, this purchase having been made possible through the generous contribution of Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt for this purpose.

In May, 1913, Mr. Andrew Carnegie contributed $200,000 to the University to be used for the erection and equipment of a building for the laboratories of the medical school, and later gave $800,000 as endowment of the school. The funds for the laboratory building were not used for building purposes at the time of the gift, but have been expended in erecting the part of the new medical school plant which is designated as the Carnegie Building.

In 1915 Mr. William Litterer, a capitalist of Nashville, donated to the University the former medical building of the University of Nashville. This building contained a large assembly hall, class rooms and laboratories of bacteriology and anatomy, and added much to the facilities of the school. This gift is commemorated in the new buildings by a tablet which designates the space devoted to bacteriology as The Litterer Laboratory.

In view of the past record of the school and in view of the favorable location of Nashville as an educational and medical center, Vanderbilt University was selected by the General Education Board of New York as offering an excellent opportunity for the development of medical education, especially in the Southern States. Accordingly in 1919 this Board appropriated the sum of $4,000,000 to enable the University to effect a complete reorganization of its School of Medicine in accordance with the most exacting demands of modern medical education. The medical faculty entered into this project with a spirit of eager co-operation.

At this time the directors of the Galloway Memorial Hospital deeded to the University its unfinished hospital building located adjacent to the School of Medicine, which represented an expenditure of about $250,000. Plans were then drawn for completing this hospital building and for making it part of a larger plant for the School of Medicine.

In June, 1921, after careful study, the program for the new medical plant was modified by the action of the Board of Trust, as it became evident that much was to be gained by uniting the School of Medicine with the rest of the University. It was decided, therefore, to construct an entirely new plant on the main campus of the University, and to abandon the developments on the South Campus. This proposition had been considered many times in past years, but had always been abandoned because of lack of means.

At this time, however, the advisability of the move was generally recognized, and it became possible by the active co-operation of the Carnegie Corporation and the General Education Board. By the action of this latter body the University authorities were permitted to use what was needed of the initial appropriation of $4,000,000 for the erection of a medical school and hospital on the West Campus. The General Education Board and the Carnegie Corporation then united, each giving half of $3,000,000 to provide additional endowment for the School of Medicine for its operation in the new plant.

The new plant, consisting of a hospital, laboratories for all departments, a school of nursing and power plant, was erected and equipped at a cost of approximately $3,500,000. The new plant was put into operation in September, 1925. There remains of the original Carnegie gifts and the appropriations by the General Education Board and the Carnegie Corporation a sum of $5,000,000 for endowment of the School of Medicine and of the Vanderbilt University Hospital. During the period of reorganization of the school, other needs not fully provided for became apparent which were met by further appropriations running over a period of years by the General Education Board and the Carnegie Corporation.

When the new plant was nearing completion an appropriation of $100,000 was made to the University by the Rockefeller Foundation, to be used over a period of five years for the purpose of furthering the development of nursing education. This sum places the Vanderbilt University School of Nursing on a sound educational basis, comparable to that of the School of Medicine, with which it is closely co-ordinated.

In the spring of 1929, the General Education Board made a donation of $2,000,000 for additional endowment of the School of Medicine, thus replacing with permanent endowment a series of annual grants to the individual departments of the institution. This was increased on July 1, 1929, by further donations of $1,500,000 for endowment of the School of Medicine, and of $4,000,000 for endowment of the Vanderbilt University Hospital. The result of these additional appropriations is a permanent endowment brought about through the capitalization of a series of annual income grants.

THE LESLIE WARNER MEMORIAL FUND FOR THE STUDY AND TREATMENT OF CANCER

This fund was established in 1932 in memory of Leslie Warner, of Nashville, Tennessee. It consists of $7,200, of which $3,600 was contributed by the nieces and nephews of Mrs. Leslie Warner.

THE RACHAEL CARPENTER MEMORIAL FUND

This fund was established in 1933 by a gift of $5,000 from Mrs. Mary Boyd Carpenter of Nashville. The income derived from this fund is to be used to promote education in the field of tuberculosis.

BUILDINGS

The building of the School of Medicine is located in the southeast corner of the University Campus. It is constructed in the collegiate Gothic style, the structure being of concrete with brick and limestone walls. The total length of the building from north to south is 458 feet and from east to west 337 feet. The floor area is 255,000 square feet. The building is in reality a series of buildings brought together so that they are all under one roof. The laboratories of the various departments of the Medical School are grouped about a court, which is open on the north side, toward the main part of the campus. The entrance to the Medical School is in the center of this court. The building on the east side of the court is designated as the Carnegie Building, and contains the laboratories of biochemistry, pharmacology and physiology, one floor being devoted to each of these subjects. The building on the west side of the court contains the laboratories of gross and microscopic anatomy, of pathology, and of bacteriology. In the building forming the south side of the court are the administrative offices of the school, large student laboratories, the Department of Preventive Medicine, the laboratory of surgical pathology and the surgical operating rooms of the hospital.

Around another open court, similar in size and proportions to the medical school court, but opening toward the south, are the hospital wards and an extensive out-patient department. The building on the west side of this court, containing the surgical portion of the hospital, is designated as the Galloway Building, and commemorates the donations made to the Galloway Memorial Hospital which have contributed toward the erection of the new medical plant.

The two buildings connecting the buildings of the north and the south courts contain laboratories, lecture rooms and the library, and form the connecting links between the hospital and the medical school. The laboratories in these buildings are arranged especially for the use of the clinical departments of the school. Another building extending toward the east from the main structure and facing on the Hillsboro Road, built about a closed court, contains the entrance to the hospital and its administrative offices, the living quarters of the resident staff, the kitchens, and on the top floor two wards for private patients. The hospital contains 210 beds.

The entire plant is so arranged that there is free communication between the various departments of the school and the hospital, and the library, with its commodious reading room, is in the center of the building. The medical school is arranged to accommodate two hundred students.

The building for the school of nursing is in conformity with the building of the medical school. It is directly north of the medical school building, facing Hillsboro Road.

The power house is located on the west side of the campus, facing Twenty-fourth Avenue. It serves the medical school and the hospital with steam and electricity, being connected with them by a large tunnel. It also supplies the other University buildings with steam. In addition to the boiler plant and electrical equipment, the power house contains the hospital laundry.

FACILITIES FOR INSTRUCTION

The buildings of the School of Medicine contain all the necessary departments, facilities and equipment for conducting a modern hospital and for the teaching of all the subjects contained in the medical curriculum. The laboratory and clinical facilities are closely co-ordinated, with the purpose that there shall be a ready flow of ideas between the laboratories of the medical sciences and the wards and outpatient service. Teaching laboratories, especially designed for their respective uses, are provided for gross and microscopic anatomy, biochemistry, physiology, bacteriology, pathology, pharmacology, preventive medicine, and for the clinical departments.

There are also a number of lecture rooms equipped with projection apparatus and other modern accessories for teaching, as well as an amphitheatre for clinical demonstrations which can accommodate practically the entire student body. Besides meeting the needs fully for the usual type of medical instruction, each department is provided with accommodations for a large number of advanced students and research workers.

The hospital consists of six units of from 26 to 40 beds. These units are designed for the following uses: One unit for male medical cases, one for female medical and pediatric cases, one for male surgical cases, one for female surgical and obstetrical cases, half a unit for private medical cases, half a unit for private surgical cases, and one divided unit for male and female colored patients. The entire hospital is operated by members of the teaching staff of the School of Medicine.

Adjoining each ward of the hospital there is a laboratory equipped for the more generally used diagnostic laboratory procedures in which students perform the various tests and examinations which the cases assigned to them may require. Each ward laboratory is provided with lockers for the microscopes and other instruments the students are required to own.

The out-patient service occupies the entire first floor of the southern portion of the building. It is especially designed for teaching and contains a series of examining, treatment and teaching rooms for general medicine and surgery, pediatrics, neurology, dermatology, dentistry, orthopedic surgery, ophthalmology, otolaryngology, obstetrics, gynecology, and urology. A waiting room adjoins each department, and several small clinical laboratories are placed in convenient locations. A demonstration room, accommodating about one hundred students, is also provided in the out-patient service.

The department of radiology, equipped for fluoroscopic examinations, the making of radiograms, X-ray treatment, and for demonstration and study of radiograms, adjoins the out-patient service.

The surgical operating rooms are placed over the central portion of the medical school court, facing north. There are three large and one small operating rooms, and an obstetrical delivery room. A room for students is provided on the operating room floor.

Besides the clinical facilities offered by the wards and out-patient service of the University Hospital, the School of Medicine has been granted the professional control of the Nashville General Hospital during eight months of the year and uses its one hundred ward beds for clinical instruction. Teaching privileges have also been accorded to the school by St. Thomas Hospital, the Central State Hospital for the Insane, the Isolation Hospital and the Davidson County Tuberculosis Hospital.

REQUIREMENTS FOR

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The School of Medicine selects its students from those who fulfill one of the following conditions:

1. Graduates of collegiate institutions of recognized standing.

2. Seniors in absentia of collegiate institutions of recognized standing who will be granted the Bachelor's degree by their colleges after having completed successfully at least one year of the work of the School of Medicine. A properly accredited statement to this effect from the colleges shall accompany all applications for admission as seniors in absentia. A form is furnished for this purpose.

3. Students of foreign universities of recognized standing who have completed at least the equivalent of three years of collegiate education may be admitted to the School of Medicine at the discretion of the Committee on Admissions.

As admission to the School of Medicine is competitive, students will be selected on the basis of the quality of their college work and the general fitness of the applicant for the study of medicine.

Every candidate must present evidence of having satisfactorily completed during his collegiate course the following minimum requirements, in which a semester hour is the credit value of sixteen weeks' work consisting of one hour of lecture or recitation or at least two hours of laboratory work:

1. Biology.—One full course of eight semester hours, of which four must consist of laboratory work. The course may be general biology, zoology, or zoology and botany, but not more than half may be botany.

2. Chemistry.—Twelve semester hours are required, of which at least eight semester hours must be in general inorganic chemistry, including four semester hours of laboratory work, and of which four semester hours must be in organic chemistry, including two semester hours of laboratory work.

3. Physics.—Eight semester hours are required, of which at least two must be laboratory work. The first year of college mathematics should be prerequisite to the course in physics. It is desirable that emphasis be placed on quantitative laboratory work.

4. English and composition.—Six semester hours.

5. A modern foreign language.—Six semester hours based on two units in high school or their equivalent in college.

The following recommendations are made in order to guide students intending to study medicine in the selection of their college courses.

1. Biology.—An advanced course of at least eight semester hours including at least two semester hours of laboratory work is highly desirable. This course should include vertebrate anatomy and embryology. If it does not, these subjects should be covered in other courses.

Credit will not be given for courses in physiology, histology, hygiene, sanitation, entomology, special bacteriology, neurology and similar subjects covered in the medical curriculum. Students are advised not to take such courses as part of their college work.

2. Chemistry.—The chemical preparation should include courses in the physical chemistry of solution and in quantitative technic. The latter may well be part of the laboratory work in physical chemistry. Those students who have not had physical chemistry are advised to supplement their preparation by studying a modern text such as Chapin's "Second Year College Chemistry" (John Wiley and Sons New York.)

Credit toward the minimum requirements will not be given for work in physiological and nutritional chemistry covered in the medical curriculum. The student is advised to devote any extra time available for chemistry to more fundamental courses in chemistry.

The ability to utilize ordinary mathematics, such as college algebra and logarithms, is essential in the study of modern chemistry, and a knowledge of elementary calculus is highly desirable.

3. Physics.—In addition to the required course in physics, special courses in electricity, light, etc. are desirable and will be considered on the same basis as extra courses in physical and quantitative chemistry.

4. Psychology.—A course of at least 4 semester hours, that deals especially with experimental or abnormal psychology, is recommended.

5. Modern foreign languages.—A reading knowledge of German and French is especially desirable for the study of medicine, and preference will be given to students who have taken college courses in these languages which should make available to them the scientific literature in these languages. A college course of six semester hours, based on two units in high school or their equivalent in college, is considered the minimum for this purpose. Credit is given for a reading knowledge of these languages without college credit, when it is demonstrated by examination.

The number of students admitted to the first year class of the School of Medicine is limited to fifty.

Women are admitted on equal terms with men.

Each applicant is required to furnish the names of three persons as references, two of them preferably from among his science teachers, when filing his application. A small unmounted photograph is also required at this time, and the result of a general intelligence test is also requested.

Applications for admission should be filed at as early a date as possible, and not later than May 15th of the year during which admission is sought. The applications are passed upon by the Committee on Admissions when received, and a final decision of acceptance or rejection may be reached at any time. Successful applicants are required to make a deposit of $50.00 within a specified time after notification of their admission. This deposit is not returnable, but is credited toward the payment of the first tuition, and in the event that the student does not matriculate, it is not returnable. Failure to make this deposit within the specified time causes the applicant to forfeit his place in the school.

Application forms may be obtained by applying to the Registrar, Vanderbilt University, School of Medicine.

REGISTRATION

All students are required to register and to pay the fees for the first half of the year on September 26 or 27, 1933, and for the second half year on or before January 31, 1934.

Any student who has failed to pay tuition and other fees ten days after they are due will be excluded from classes, except when under unusual circumstances an extension of time is allowed by the dean. This rule will be applied when such an extension of time has elapsed.

All students who fail to register on the days designated will be charged a fee of $3.00 for late registration.

THE MEDICAL-SCIENTIFIC COURSE OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

In order to meet fully the requirements for entrance to Medicine, but at the same time to retain the cultural value of academic work and yet effect a saving of a year, the College offers the Medical-Scientific Course covering three years. Students who have satisfactorily completed the above course and whose applications for admission to the School of Medicine have been officially accepted, will, upon the completion of the first-year course in medicine, be given twelve hours' credit toward the Bachelor's degree.

Students desiring information in regard to this course should write to Dean F. C. Paschal of the College of Arts and Science, Vanderbilt University.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

Students may be admitted to advanced standing when vacancies occur under the following conditions. Applications for advanced standing should be filed according to the procedure described for admission to the first year class, acceptable applicants being required to make the same deposit of $50.00. Applicants must furnish acceptable evidence of having completed the conditions of admission as stated above, and of having satisfactorily completed in an accredited medical school all the work required of students of the class they desire to enter. They must also present a certificate of honorable dismissal from the medical school or schools they have attended. Examinations may be required on any of the medical courses taken in another school.

EXAMINATIONS AND PROMOTIONS

Successful completion of the various courses of the medical curriculum and the scholastic standing are determined by the character of the students' daily work and the results of examinations. Examinations may be written, oral or practical, and they may be held either at the completion of each course or at the end of the academic year. The quality of the work of each student is considered, usually at the end of each trimester, by a committee composed of the instructors responsible for his more important courses.

Students who fail in two major subjects at any time during their medical course may be required to withdraw from the school. Students who fail in two major subjects in the same department during a scholastic year or fail a re-examination in a major subject may be required to withdraw from the school. Students who have had no reported failures may be required to withdraw from the school if their work has been of general unsatisfactory quality. Students may be given credit for a subject by re-examination, but failures remain on their records, and may be counted as a cause for requesting withdrawal, provided another failure in a major course occurs. Major Courses are as follows:

First Year—Gross Anatomy, Histology, Neurology, Biochemistry, and Physiology.

Second Year—Bacteriology, Pathology, Pharmacology, Physical Diagnosis, Clinical Pathology, and Parasitic Diseases.

Third Year—Medicine, Surgery, Surgical Pathology, Obstetrics.

Fourth Year—Medicine, Surgery, Preventive Medicine and Public Health, Pediatrics, Gynecology.

No information regarding the relative scholastic standing of students is given out from the office of the dean. Students will be notified whenever the Committee on Promotion considers their work of poor quality, thus serving notice of the necessity for greater effort in order to carry the work of the school.

Any student who indicates by his work or his conduct that he is unfit for the practice of medicine may at the discretion of the Executive Faculty be requested to withdraw from the school at any time.

Students who at the beginning of an academic year have failed to complete all the work of the preceding years may not be allowed to carry all the prescribed courses. This rule applies especially to courses for which adequate preparation has not been gained by the completion of preceding courses.

Students may be required to repeat courses that they fail to pass on re-examination.

ELECTIVE WORK

Students are required to obtain credit for six units of elective or special work during their course. One unit is equivalent to two hours a week for one trimester. Elective units may be obtained as credit for elective courses or for a thesis prepared under the direction of and acceptable to the head of a department. Students entering elective courses are required to complete them in order to obtain elective units.

Elective units may also be obtained for special work done in or accepted by any department. Additional units may be granted for special work when such work is considered by a committee of the faculty to be of superior quality.

Students are advised to consult the head of a department in which they may care to take special or elective work. This work need not be in a department in which required courses are being carried.

A notice in writing must be given to the Registrar at the time elective or special work in any department is begun. Students failing to give such notice may not receive elective credits for the work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

The candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine must have attained the age of twenty-one years and be of good moral character. They must have spent at least four years of study as matriculated medical students, the last of which has been in this school. They must have satisfactorily completed all the required courses of the medical curriculum, have passed all prescribed examinations, and be free of indebtedness to the University. At the end of the fourth year every student who has fulfilled these requirements will be recommended for the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

HONORS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Founder's Medal—This medal is awarded to the student in the graduating class of each School of the University who has attained the highest average standing in scholarship throughout the four years of study.

The Commonwealth Fund Scholarships—The Commonwealth Fund provides an annual grant as a scholarship fund for deserving medical students. The terms of the scholarship require that a student who receives such consideration shall agree to practice as much as three years in a rural area in Tennessee after graduation and after having served an internship of not less than one year. The scholarships may be renewed for each of the four years of medical study. While preference will be given to residents of Tennessee, applicants of states adjacent to it may be considered in the event it is not possible to award these scholarships to worthy students within Tennessee. It is necessary that applications be filed prior to April 1, and blanks for this purpose may be obtained by addressing the Registrar of the School of Medicine.

The Beauchamp Scholarship—This scholarship, founded by Mrs. John A. Beauchamp in memory of her husband, who was for many years Superintendent of the Central State Hospital for the Insane, at Nashville, is awarded to the student showing greatest progress in the department of neurology and psychiatry and who is otherwise worthy and deserving.

The William Litterer Prize in Bacteriology—Established in 1931 by Dr. William Litterer of Nashville, this prize, amounting to $100, is awarded annually to the fourth-year student doing the best research work in Bacteriology.

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA

A chapter of this Medical Honor Society was established by charter in the School of Medicine in 1923. Not more than one-fifth of the students of the senior class are eligible for membership and only one-half of the number of eligible students may be elected to membership during the last half of their third year. This society has for its purpose the development of high standards of personal conduct, and scholarship, and the encouragement of the spirit of medical research. Students are elected into membership on the basis of their scholarship, character and originality.

The Society invites a scientist of prominence each year usually to deliver a lecture before the students, faculty, and local members of the medical profession. In 1933 this lecturer was Dr. Walter B. Cannon, Professor of Physiology at Harvard University Medical School.

ALUMNI MEMORIAL HALL

The Alumni Memorial Hall was erected during 1924 and 1925 through contributions by the alumni and their friends as a monument to the Vanderbilt men who fell in the World War. It is a handsome building in the collegiate Gothic style designed chiefly as a center for the social life of the University. It contains a memorial hall, lounging, reading and recreation rooms, a small auditorium and offices for various student activities. The offices of the Alumni Association are in this building. There is also a club room for the members of the faculty.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council consists of representatives of the College of Arts and Science, and the Schools of Engineering, Law, Medicine and Religion. The Council represents the whole body of students on the Campus, calls and conducts general meetings and elections, takes part in the management of student publications, receives communications from the Chancellor and faculties, and, in general, leads and directs student activities.

HONOR SYSTEM

All examination work in this University is conducted under the Honor System.

For the successful operation of the Honor System the cooperation of every student is essential. It is the duty of each student to show his appreciation of the trust reposed in him under this system, not alone by his own conduct, but by insisting on the absolute honesty of others in his class. For the purpose of investigating cases of violation of this system, there exists a Student Honor Committee.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

All members of the first-year class and all students transferring from other institutions, are required to undergo a thorough physical examination within two weeks after the date of admission. Records of these examinations are kept, and students are advised concerning their physical condition and general health.

A member of the medical staff is appointed physician to the students. He has a regular daily office hour in the hospital, and should be consulted by any student who feels in any way indisposed. Students are referred by him to various members of the hospital staff whenever there are indications for such consultations, and all applications for medical care must be made first to the physician to students. There are no fees for this service. Students are admitted to the wards of the hospital when necessary at one-half the regular rate, and they usually occupy beds in small separate wards. No reduction is made for students occupying rooms in the private pavilions.

The facilities of the Southern Graduate Y. M. C. A. School, which include swimming, handball, basketball, tennis, physical exercises, etc., are available to medical students. A fee of $6.67 a trimester is charged by the Southern Graduate Y. M. C. A. School, $4 to be paid by the student and the balance by the School of Medicine.

THE ABRAHAM FLEXNER LECTURESHIP

Announcement was made in the fall of 1927, that Mr. Bernard Flexner of New York City had given fifty thousand dollars to Vanderbilt University for the purpose of establishing the Abraham Flexner Lectureship in the School of Medicine. This Lectureship is awarded every two years to a scientist of outstanding attainments, who shall spend as much as two months in residence in association either with a department of a fundamental science or of a clinical branch. This Lectureship may also be given to one who has specialized in some science basic in the study of medicine.

The third series of Abraham Flexner Lectures were given in the spring of 1933 by Dr. Francis R. Fraser, Director of the Medical Unit and Professor of Medicine at the St. Bartholomew Hospital and Medical School, London, England.

THE PHI BETA PI LECTURE

The Phi Beta Pi Lecture was established by the Nashville chapter of the Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity. This lecture is given under the auspices of the faculty of the School of Medicine. Each year usually a lecturer of prominence is selected, and the lecture is open to the medical students, faculty, and local members of the medical profession.

THE VANDERBILT MEDICAL SOCIETY

The medical society holds regular monthly meetings throughout the academic year, on the first Friday of each month at 8 p. m. in the medical school. At these meetings papers are presented by the teaching staff of the school, representing the research that is being carried on in the various departments. Patients presenting interesting and unusual conditions are also demonstrated. These meetings are open to students of the school and to the medical profession of the community.

The officers of the Vanderbilt Medical Society for 1933-1934 are Dr. Horton R. Casparis, President, and Dr. John B. Youmans, Secretary.

LIBRARY

EILEEN R. CUNNINGHAM, Librarian
PEARLE C. HEDGES, Senior Librarian
FRANCES MCKEE, Assistant
PEARL S. MASON, Assistant
DORINDA KNOPP, Assistant

The Library of the Medical School contains at present over 33,000 volumes and receives approximately 520 current medical periodicals. The back files of medical journals are being completed as rapidly as possible and new sets and current subscriptions are being constantly added. The Library is in charge of trained librarians who assist readers in the use of the material available. The Library is open both to members of the staff and students of the school, and also to members of the Nashville Academy of Medicine and other members of the medical profession. The hours are from 8:30 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. and from 7:00 P. M. to 10:00 P. M. every week day, Saturdays from 8:30 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. and Sundays from 2:00 P. M. to 5:00 P. M. during the academic year.

The students of the first-year class are given, early in the first trimester, a brief period of instruction in the use of a medical library. The students are taught the arrangement of the library, and are made familiar with the use of the bibliographical material available, both English and foreign. The students are shown how to consult reference works and indices, and how to prepare bibliographies.

GENERAL PLAN OF INSTRUCTION AND DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

GENERAL PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

Each academic year with the exception of the first (semesters), is divided into three trimesters of eleven weeks each. Required lectures, classroom and laboratory work and practical work with patients occupy approximately seven hours a day on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of each week. The afternoons of Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays are generally free from required work throughout the course. The first two of these afternoons are intended for optional work in elective courses, in the library, or in supplementing the regular work in the laboratories or hospitals. As Tuesday and Thursday afternoons are usually free from required work for all classes, with the exception of the first year class, there is an opportunity for students of different classes to work together in elective courses. This feature of the curriculum tends, to some extent, to break down the sharp distinction between the classes. It also allows students to return to departments in which they have developed special interests.

Saturday afternoons are set aside for recreation, and work at these times is not encouraged.

Admission to the School of Medicine presupposes that every student has had an adequate preparation in chemistry, physics and biology, and the proper comprehension of practically every course in the medical curriculum is dependent upon knowledge gained in previously required courses. The proper succession of courses is therefore an important factor in determining the medical curriculum. Another important factor is, however, the correlation of courses. In several instances courses given simultaneously are planned to supplement and expand each other. Such correlation also allows students to study a subject from different points of view, and one course may often excite an interest in another.

Although there is no sharp demarcation in the curriculum between the laboratory and the clinical courses, the first year and the greater part of the second year are taken up in the study of the medical sciences,—anatomy, biological chemistry, physiology, bacteriology, pathology and pharmacology.

During the third trimester of the second year attention is strongly focused on technical training needed for the study of patients, which is begun in the hospital wards with the beginning of the third year, the students being assigned to the various wards of the hospitals in groups. The fourth year students are assigned to the different divisions of the out-patient department. By this arrangement the less mature students see the more out-spoken manifestations of disease under conditions which allow their study with greater facility, while the more mature students study the early manifestations of disease, when their recognition is more difficult. The senior students work also more independently under conditions more nearly like those obtaining in the practice of medicine. During the fourth year an opportunity is also given the students to acquire some of the simpler methods of specialists. No attempt is made however, to give them sufficient knowledge or experience, to encourage them to enter upon the practice of a specialty without serious post-graduate study.

Throughout the latter half of the course the students are taught as far as possible by practical work, and every effort is made to develop sound and well-trained practitioners of medicine.

Finally, during the fourth year courses in preventive medicine are given, with the intent of familiarizing the student with the more important aspects of the prevention of disease, of public health and of hygiene. An attempt is also made to interest the student in the relation of disease and injury to society, and to awaken in him a consciousness of his broader obligations to his community and to its social organization. Various aspects of prevention of disease are introduced throughout the entire medical curriculum to the end that the graduate of medicine is imbued with the "Preventive Idea." The out-patient department is utilized in giving the student a practical knowledge of the social aspects of disease, as well as the application of the principles of prevention in relation to medical practice.

COURSES OFFERED TO CANDIDATES FOR GRADUATE DEGREES

Candidates registered by the Committee on Graduate Instruction of the University for the degree of Master of Science or of Doctor of Philosophy, may pursue work in the Medical Sciences given in the Medical School, either in regular courses or in special elective courses, provided such students are accepted by the heads of departments offering courses. Graduate work in the Medical Sciences is regulated by the Committee on Graduate Instruction of the University, which controls such work in all departments of the University. Candidates for graduate degrees should apply to the Dean of the College of Arts and Science and confer with the chairman of the Committee of the Medical Faculty on Graduate Instruction (see page 43 for personnel of Committee).

POSTGRADUATE INSTRUCTION IN MEDICINE

Postgraduate instruction in the School of Medicine has been placed under the direction of a faculty committee and a Director of Postgraduate Instruction, in cooperation with the heads of the departments. Courses may be offered at any time during the year for periods of varying length. Only a limited number of physicians can be admitted to any course.

A description of available courses may be found in the catalog on page 121. More detailed information may be obtained concerning postgraduate instruction by writing the Director.

The object of the course is the study of such subjects as wound healing, infection and antiseptics. The students are given practical tests of the various methods of sterilizing the hands, instruments and dressings. The course also includes instruction in the methods of application of the usual surgical dressings. The object of the course is to prepare the students for beginning their clinical training.

The students, under the direction of the staff, make the records of the histories, physical examinations and the usual laboratory tests. Ward rounds are made daily by various members of the surgical staff at which times the ward cases are discussed with the students. The students may be present in the operating rooms at such times as their required work permits. When possible the student is permitted to assist in a surgical operation which is performed upon a patient assigned to him in the ward. During one trimester the students are given the opportunity of studying the surgical patients in the Nashville General Hospital.

1. PREVENTIVE MEDICINE AND PUBLIC HEALTH. A course of lectures intended to provide the student with the preventive point of view in the practice of medicine and also to acquaint him with the organized forces working for the public health. The following subjects are among those considered: Etiology, modes of transmission and methods of prevention and control of communicable diseases; the epidemiology of some of the more important infectious diseases; maternal and infant hygiene; the venereal disease problem; the more common occupational diseases; the deficiency diseases; school hygiene; water supplies and sewage disposal. As much time as possible is given to the study of the present status of public health organization, federal, state and local. Stress is placed upon the principles involved in public health administrative practice, especially in relation to the practitioner of medicine.

Two hours a week during the first and second trimesters of the fourth year.

DR. LEATHERS AND STAFF.

2. FIELD DEMONSTRATIONS. Visits for observation and instruction are made to health activities carried on in Nashville and in the immediate vicinity. This includes state, county and city health departments; maternal and infant hygiene clinics; tuberculosis clinics; and places of public utility, such as dairies, public water supply, sewage disposal plants, and industrial establishments. After each group of four demonstrations one period is devoted to a seminar in which certain students discuss important phases of the activities to which visits have been made. A laboratory problem in the epidemiology of an infectious disease occupies two of these periods.

Three hours (one afternoon) a week during the first and second trimesters of the fourth year.

DR. LEATHERS AND STAFF.

3. PARASITIC DISEASES. A course of lectures, demonstrations and laboratory exercises in which the animal parasites of man, their vectors and the diseases which they produce are studied. Emphasis is laid more upon the biological activities of parasites than upon their morphology. Clinical cases and case histories are used wherever possible, and methods of treatment and prevention are stressed.

Seventy-seven hours during the third trimester of the second year.

DR. MELENEY AND DR. FRYE.

4. Elective Work. The participation of a few selected fourth-year students will be welcomed in investigative work carried on by members of the Department. Hours and credits to be arranged.

MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

RICHARD K. COLE, M. D., Major M. C., U. S. A., Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Elective courses in Military Science and Tactics are offered, only during the third and fourth years. Students who completed the basis course formerly offered, are eligible for the advanced course which includes, besides at least thirty-three hours a year, during the third and fourth years, a six weeks' term in camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where a practical study of medico-military subjects is pursued.

Due to a change in the laws, as enacted by Congress in 1933, the basic course for the first two years will not be offered during 1933-1934.

Students taking the advanced course are paid the value of army rations during the pursuance of the course, including the summer vacation, with the exception of the time spent in camp. This amounts to approximately $9.00 a month. During the summer encampment, which can be taken during the second or third years, the student is allowed transportation to and from the camp. While at the camp he receives his quarters, rations, clothing and medical attention. In addition he receives $21.00 a month. Upon the completion of the advanced course students are eligible for appointment in the Medical Corps of the Organized Reserve of the Army of the United States in the Grade of First Lieutenant. While the course in Military Science and Tactics is elective, a student entering the advanced course must complete the course as a prerequisite to graduation.

The advanced courses are as follows:

POSTGRADUATE COURSES

JOHN B. YOUMANS, Director

The following postgraduate courses will be offered during the year 1933-34. Admission will be restricted to graduates in Medicine. Those who wish further information regarding these courses should address the Registrar of the Medical School.

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE AND PUBLIC HEALTH

In cooperation with the Tennessee State Department of Health a course is given for physicians who wish to prepare themselves for positions as county health officers. The first half of the course consists of lectures, laboratory demonstrations, work in out-patient departments which deal with conditions of public health importance, conferences on the administration of the county health organization and its relationship to other health agencies, exercises in epidemiology, vital statistics, graphic methods, etc. The second half consists of a health survey of a town and practical field work under a trained health officer in a county having a full-time health organization. The course occupies twelve weeks during the first or second trimester. Inquiries may be addressed to the Registrar of the Medical School.

THE COMMONWEALTH FUND FELLOWSHIPS

The Commonwealth Fund provides fellowships for general practitioners of medicine who wish to devote a four months' period to postgraduate instruction in the Vanderbilt School of Medicine. Two courses are given annually. Each course is limited to ten physicians. Applications are made direct to the Commonwealth Fund. These fellowships are given to physicians in Tennessee only.

SPECIAL COURSES

Facilities are available for a very limited number of physicians desiring to pursue special work in various departments. In general these opportunities are open only to those able to pursue their studies over a rather extended period, and are made available by special arrangement. Inquiries may be addressed to the Registrar of the Medical School.
